It was soon seen that Miss Brown was in a dying condition, and that others were seriously hurt. Three of them fell in a faint, brought on by the exertion of the riot. Hacks were ordered, and the women were hurried off to their homes. Yesterday afternoon warrants were sworn out against Miss Jessie Pierce and a half dozen others. They will be held to await the result of Miss Brown's injuries.

MOVING THE EXCHANGE. Everything is Ready and the Transfer Will Take Place To-Day.

For a number of weeks past the officers and employes of the Southern Bell Telephone Company have been kept busy in making the necessary preparations for a removal of the Telephone I xchange from the top floor of the Hanewinckel building to the northwest corner of Ninth and Main streets, where it will hereafter occupy the two upper floors recently vacated by the officers of the Grand Lodge of Masons. By to-morrow morning it is expected that all the connections will be completed so that the transfer from the old office and old switchboard to the new office and the new switchboard can be made.

The new quarters of the company, which have been leased by Superintendent C. E. McCluer, the efficient and popular head of the telephone service, for a term of ten years, will be in every respect far superior Company have been kept busy in making the years, will be in every respect far superior to those just about to be given up. The new switchboard, which covers the whole width of the building on the top floor, has a capacity for 2,400 subscribers and is just double the size of the old one. It is constructed in the latest and most improved style of the Law system, and the board contains all the improvements made during the past two or three years. The appointments of the several officers are very commodions and comfortable. The upper floor of the building comfortable. The upper noor of the business has been set aside for the exchange offices proper. The largest room, containing the big switchboard, is the overating-room. Its table is divided in sixteen different sections. each one of which will be in charge of an operator. In the old office there were only six sections, each one of which was attended to by two operators. The table of the chief to by two operators. It contains a number of lockers, a lounge, washstand and an oil stove for the accommodation of the young ladies, to warm tea, coffee, etc. Two other rooms are set aside for the manager and the cashier of the company.

On the lower floer the district offices will be located. There will be found the cozy office of Superintendent McCluzr, with an ante-room for his assistant and his clerk. Another room will be used by the telephone inspectors while waiting for orders. The largest room on that flour is to be the repairshop, where all repairs necessary will be made, and adjoining it is the supply stock-room.

The work of constructing the new switch-The work of constructing the new switch-board and connecting it with the 2,400 wires while the old one was still in operation was a very complicated one. The transfer of the old service with its 1,000 subscribers to the new switchboard with its complication of wires without any interruption to the service re-quired a great deal of labor and ingenuity. With such a large number of mea working simultaneously outdoors and indoors it would not be at all surprising if some few errors and the at all surprising if some few errors should be made, and the new switchboard being somewhat different from the one herefore in use it may take a day or two for the Subscribers, therefore, need not be surprised if the telephone service should not be as satisfactory at first as they have been accustomed of finding it. It is also possible that a few subscribers may have been wrongly connected, but it is to be hoped that any one who fails to secure prompt attention will notify the manager of chief operator at once in order that the mistake may be remedied without any loss of time.

During the past few days nearly every telephone wire in this city has been called up at headquarters and connected with the new switchboard, and only about a dozen wires are left now without connection, for the reason that the respective customers failed to name their numbers when they were asked from headquarters to do so. A Suggestion to the Convention. To the Editor of the Times:

To the Editor of the Times:

It seems to be generally agreed upon that our delegates to Chicago shall not be instructed for any candidate. This may be very proper, but not only should our delegation have a pronounced preference, but the convention should give forth no uncertain sound as to the choice of the people of the Old Dominion for the presidential nomination. A nice conglomeration of "representatives" would there be if all the States sent idelegates with no preferences themselves and delegates with no preferences themselves and no expression of their people's desire further than to get a good man!" The several delegations should be backed with the predilections of their constituencies, and then an interchange of views as to the proper man to nominate will be fruitful. I have no man to nominate will be fruitful. I have no doubt there will be an effort made in our State Convention to prevent a public expression of preference in this matter, but if so it should be "downed" at once and vigorously. Let there be no mistaking the voice of our old State in this matter and no doubtful verbiage resorted to in our resolutions. I suggest the following resolution to the consideration of the delegates as one expressive or our preference and yet as not partaking of the nature of "cast-ivon" instructions.

"Resolved, That while it is the sense of this convention that our delegation to the National Democratic Convention should not be formally instructed on the general princi-

Yet, believing a full and frank judgment. Yet, believing a full and frank expression of preference on the part of the people of the several States will be of material benefit to said national deliberative body in the discharge of their duties, we hereby unequivocally declare as the sense of this convention and as reflecting the voice of the Democracy of the Old Dominion that Grover Claveland should be our standard bearer in the coming contest. Dominion that Grover Claveland should be our standard-bearer in the coming contest. We believe him to be the logical candidate, no less than the one who would create more enthusiasm than any other name, naving proved himself a great leader, a profound statesman, a lofty and guileless patriot." It seems to me some such resolution should be passed by our convention, W. M. B.

Marion, Smyth county—Corn is all above planted. Weather was very favorable until last three days, which have been too cool.

Danville, l'ittsylvania—The weather for the last week has been very favorable on the growing crops. Tobacco plants are plentiful and doing well.

Bedford City—All the crops are retarded by cool weather. Corn-planting done. Tobacco plants doing well. Farm work is well up.

Dale Enterprise, Rockingham county—Wheat and grass growing finely. Not half of the apple-trees are blooming. Early planted corn has a good stand. Some late-planted corn is not up yet.

Stovens' City, Frederick county—Corn-planting about finished and coming up well. Early-sown wheat loos well but late-sown is indifferent. Pastures and grass need rain.

Manassas, Prince William—Wheat has revived during the last week beyond expectation. Corn planting in progress, and the bulk of it will be completed this week. Not many late apple blossoms.

Goochland county—Planting has been retarded on scoont of too much rain. Wheat, Goochland county-Planting has been retarded on account of too much rain. Wheat, corn and cats look promising.

I'ctersburg. Dinwiddle county — The weather has been ravorable during the week. Most of the planting is yet undone.

Handsomes Depot, Southampton county, Corn had a bad stand. The peanut crop is being planted, but little will be planted on account of low prices.

Birda Nest Verthampton, county.

Birds Nest, Northampton county.-Some corn planted; peas in bloom. Potatoes are looking well, but bugs are plenty. Correspondents who have rain gauges will please state the amount of rainfall.

WANT TO

acknowledge to the kind and generous public my high appreciation of their many timely considerations. Though I may have failed to do so, it has been, and is still, my intention to merit the many favors that have been bestowed upon me. I am glad to say that while my business has not been all that I desired, it has been better than I feared it would be, and I am thankful for it and feel very much encouraged. All I desire is a trial, feeling assured that full satisfaction to all will be the result. Give me your property to rent and sell. Come and see me when you want to buy or rent. I am not a great believer in big shows, but some how or other I generally "get there."

Awaiting your coming,

I am, truly yours,

AUCTION SALE

40 Acres of Suburban Land With an Assured Future, SITUATED ABOUT

ONE MILE FROM THE CITY LIMITS AND ENOWN AS

I will sell, by auction, on the premises, on WEDNESDAY, MAY 18, 1892, wednesday, May 18, 1892, at 5:30 o'clock, P. M. THAT CHOICE, ATTRACTIVE, VALUABLE AND WELL-LO-CATED SUPURBAN PLACE above referred to centaining 40 acres of level and fertile land, under good fences, and having on it some improvements, such as a plain but comfortable cottage, sood stables, &c.

This land is duite valuable now, but its near future value is the important element, as the elaborate, costly and permanent improvements being made in that immediate vicinity will double the value of this land in a short time.

Bear in mind that "Sherwood Park," which is to rival the handsomest subdivisions of Poston sthurbs, is close by on the southeast; the Hill monument, situated on the beautiful and justly popular Hermitagerosed, is near by on the northeast; Acca station, on the Richmoni, Fredericksburg and Poiomac ratireed, is within a hundred yards or so on the west, while on the north and adjoining is the Chestnut Grove estate, which is shortly to be beautifully plotted and highly ornamented by its tasteful and princely owner—these and other attractions rendering this the most desirable and most promising property on the market.

The condition of real estate, which has been extremely dull, and oven now is but beginning to feel the pulsations of a partially restored confilonce and of a returning demand, which will, in a year's time, give us a strong and healthy market, and the backwardness of the improvements, not only planned, but in some instances actually beginn, all stround this favored tract, combine to emphasize this as the time of all times to purchase this fortunately environed property.

Trans-Cone-third cash, and the residue at the state of the property. Trans: One-third cash, and the residue at one and two years for notes, with interest added, and secured by a trust deed.
